Name: Julian Frost
Superhero alias: Frost
Mutation: Cryokinesis

According to his stats, Julian's Cryokinesis ability is of high power and can be used for strong defense with a fast recovery time. While his abilities are powerful and unpredictable for enemies, their usage can be slow and can hinder Julian's movements.

Gear: Cryo Armor

The armor is designed to enhance the wearer's cryokinetic abilities. The armor is lightweight and flexible, allowing for maximum mobility while in combat.

Affiliation: B.A.M

Attributes

Physical: Julian is naturally adapted to extreme cold environments. Julian is agile and strong, surpassing even the strongest athletes.

Mental: Julian's sharp mind allows him to quickly understand and adjust to various situations.

Social: Julian has a strong protective instinct and tends to be disliked by the media.

B.A.M Ranking:

Character Profile

Background: Julian was born and raised in Neon City, a hub of futuristic technology and abilities. He is part of the 4% of the population possessing unique and rare abilities, specifically, the power of cryokinesis. His parents worked for the Bureau of Ability Management's (B.A.M) secret department, which deals with the regulation and balance of mutant abilities.

Personality: Julian is a responsible and determined individual. He learned the potential danger of his powers after causing harm to other agents during his training at B.A.M. This incident caused him to become more aware of the consequences of his actions and to use his powers effectively and responsibly.

Abilities: Julian has the unique ability of cryokinesis, which allows him to control and manipulate ice. His training and experience at B.A.M have given him the necessary skills to use his powers effectively and responsibly.

Weaknesses: Julian's cryokinetic abilities require moisture in the air to work effectively, and dry environments can weaken his powers. Additionally, he has a strong desire to protect innocent people, which can cause him to act impulsively.

Tragic Event: During one of Julian's missions, he fell into a trap set by Dr. Blaze, resulting in a battle between the two with devastating consequences for the civilians in the surrounding area. Despite Julian's best efforts, he was unable to prevent the destruction and loss of life caused by the battle. The incident caused public outrage, exposing B.A.M's secret operations to the media, and creating tension between mutants and humans.

Relationships: Julian's parents worked for B.A.M, and he followed in their footsteps to become an agent. However, due to the public's negative perception of superheroes, Julian is not well-liked by the public, causing further tension in his relationships.

Goals: Julian's primary goal is to prevent harm to civilians and maintain balance in the mutant community. He hopes to improve the public's perception of superheroes and work towards creating a better relationship between mutants and humans.
